Manual Board Assembly Guide

Solder the components in the order of their color in the standard resistor color code, starting at brown and ending in violet. Components in black should be ignored. The color of the LEDs are shown beside them. Some of the resistors in the board are unmarked and should be populated with the values that are annotated in grey beside them.